

PRODUCT GROUP 590

Series 590-05/694

UV Haptic varnish, rubber

A distinctive, UV curing finishing system which develops a rubber like surface. This unique haptic effect gives the printer a perfect possibility to differentiate himself from classy varnishing and attain a position as a specialist.

Tip: due to the lightly “sticky” surface it is recommended during production to only make very little stacks, whereas attention has to be paid to block resistance. If necessary, use of a silicone paper should be considered.
